Clean Hands Count for Healthcare Providers

Practicing hand hygiene is a simple yet effective way to prevent infections. Cleaning your hands can prevent the spread of germs, including those that are resistant to antibiotics and are becoming difficult, if not impossible, to treat. On average, healthcare providers clean their hands less than half of the times they should. On any given day, about one in 31 hospital patients has at least one healthcare-associated infection.<sup>[1]</sup>

Stop illness at the door

In 2015, results of a project known as the HAI Prevalence Survey were published. The Survey described the burden of HAIs in U.S. hospitals, and reported that there were an estimated 687,000 HAIs in U.S. acute care hospitals <sup>[2]</sup>. Access to hand hygiene is critical in reducing HAI levels.

Protect Every Moment

Developed by the World Health Organization, The “My 5 Moments for Hand Hygiene” approach defines the key moments when healthcare workers should perform hand hygiene.

Improve compliance in your facility by having the right products in the right place. Diversey provides alcohol-based hand rubs in both personal and wall-mounted sizes to help you Protect Every Moment.
